

The letter released by the National Trade Register Office must indicate that in the last two years you were not a partner/shareholder at the company in question or at another legal person.